

International Biomedical Research Alliance

An invitation for you to attend lunch and a special discussion on “Achieving Personal Financial Security during a Lifetime in Science” with Charles D. Ellis, Ph.D., M.B.A.

Dr. Charles E. Ellis is a renowned author, historian, financial advisor, and international investment authority who served over 30 years as the managing partner of Greenwich Associates, a business strategy consulting firm for leading financial service organizations around the world. He is currently the chair of the Whitehead Institute for Biomedical Research, but has served on the boards of Harvard Business School, Yale University, Stern Schools of Business at New York University and Phillips Exeter Academy. He has authored 12 books, written over 100 articles for business and professional magazines as well as taught classes at Harvard and Yale.

When: Friday, April 16th from 10:00 a.m.-12:00 p.m.

Where: Mary Woodward Lasker Center on NIH campus

*Per Dr. Lenardo's request, attendance is required
Please RSVP to Ann Drucker, amdrucker@verizon.net by March 22nd*